

RVW2/1/110 It's of an Old Couple

Sung by Mrs Verrall, Sept. 6th 1908 [2 of 4]

Editorial suggestion ♩ = 100

It's of an old cou - ple and they — were poor; Raj - dum tor - um row - do rod - dy It's of an old cou - ple and they were poor; — They lived in a lit - tle house, had but one door. Raj - dum tor - um rid - dle dum, Raj - dum tor - um rod - dy.

It's of an old couple and they were poor;

Rajdum torum rowdo roddy

It's of an old couple and they were poor;

They lived in a little house, had but one door.

Rajdum torum riddledum rajdum torum roddy

The old man he was often gone from home;

The old wife got tired of sleeping alone.

The parson of the parish who lived just by

And often with the old woman did lie.

The old man he came home about twelve o'clock

And on the little door he did knock.

She said my dear husband will you be so kind

To fetch me an apple to please my mind?

The old man he went out and got up a tree;

Up jumped the parson and away got he.

He brought her an apple, put it on the shelf;

If you want another go fetch it yourself.